

South Africa has no shipowners and, although the local cargo underwriters are routinely involved in general average, there is no GA industry here. As a result, the SA MLA has decided to follow the approach taken by the UK MLA on general average.