Dear Chris

I am pleased to announce that the CML CMI Database of Judicial Decisions on International Conventions has now reached the significant milestone of 1,000 cases (as of today, 1,004 cases). I attach a document setting out the current statistics.

I want to highlight the pivotal role being played in this enterprise by our CML research staff and especially my colleague, Paul Myburgh, who as editor has played the major role in ensuring the overall quality and breadth of coverage of jurisdictions in the database. The largest civil law contribution continues to be from our Dutch colleagues and we have Taco to most sincerely thank for that.

If you would like any further information, please do let me know.

Kind regards

Stephen
