

Poliana Lovatto

PhD in Law

Law professor and member of the Brazilian Bar Association

PhD (2025) and Master's degree (2021) in Law from the University of Caxias do Sul, with a scholarship from the Brazilian Federal Government's CAPES program. Academic exchange periods at Kadir Has University in Turkey (2023) and The Hague Academy of International Law in the Netherlands (2024). Research internship at the International Maritime Organization (2025). Specialist in Public Law with an Emphasis on Public Administration and in Labor Law and Procedure. Practicing attorney in the private sector. Legal Advisor at the Association of Retirees and Pensioners of Caxias do Sul. Law professor at Anhanguera Educacional. Visiting professor in the postgraduate program at the University of Caxias do Sul. Advisor to the Presidency of the Brazilian Institute for the Law of the Sea. Authorship of academic articles and book chapters in the fields of international law and the law of the sea